Are you getting a little restless with tradition watercolor and oil painting?
Have you been intrigued with acrylics but were frustrated by its limitations? Been there, done that.

I have arrived at acrylics as my personal medium after a long process of elimination. I think acrylics are the medium for the serious 21st century artist. This is the area where real innovations are happening fast. If you are interested exploring contemporary acrylic techniques and strategies with me, along with grappling with traditional painting problems, then this is the workshop for you.

My workshop involves lecture/demo, critiques, and plenty of one-on-one time with each student. At the end of the two days you will have at least one painting well on its way to being finished, and plenty of ideas for approaching a second or third piece. Whatever state you feel you are as an artist, my goal for you is to boost you to the next level.

If you have never taken a workshop from me you will probably find my approach refreshing. For those who have been in my workshops before, although my basic approach and core values remain the same, the workshop is always a new experience. My personal learning journey continues to evolve and I'm eager to share my new ideas with you all!
